After getting this book, I can finally garden good, this book is an amazing way to get a little help and push to get your garden ready to go. So many pages to just read and figure out the information, it is also very simple to farm after this, and I recommend it.

Just a general overview of information, not real in depth, more of a summary than anything else

Greenhouse Gardening A greenhouse allows you to plant all year round- This is the most compelling reason why gardening enthusiasts make use of greenhouses. Whether you are a breeder, a farmer, or a hobbyist, you'll love to have the chance to enjoy gardening 24/7. Unfortunately, the fact is that you can't do exactly that on a lot of places in the world. A greenhouse provides you with the opportunity to grow your plants indoors while weather conditions outside are less than ideal. With the ability to change up conditions inside the greenhouse, you can grow particular plants there in any part of the year. It allows you to control environmental conditions- For most gardening enthusiasts, this is the biggest reason why they go for greenhouses to begin with. On the great outdoors, it's virtually up to your plants to take whatever Mother Nature has to dish out. In terms of survival odds, that is not exactly the most ideal scenario. This is where the greenhouse comes into the picture. You can control some of the most basic environmental parameters such as temperature, soil moisture, light exposure, and humidity inside the greenhouse. Some modern forms of these buildings provide the gardener total control of all external factors that affect plant growth. Greenhouse Topics... A Short History of the Greenhouse Why Grow Plants in a Greenhouse? How to Build Your Greenhouse Preparing for Growing Season Planting in Cold Weather Planting in Warm Weather Much, much more! Winter Gardening Regardless of whether your regions winters are a perpetual chill or pleasantly moderate, gardening can have a lot of difficulties, but it also provides opportunities. Whether you are planning for your summer or spring planting, looking to grow fresh herbs and vegetables, or simply want to keep your favourite plants alive during the colder months, winter gardening provides a lot more options that you probably ever realized. There really is no reason for you not to keep your thumb green throughout the entire year. A lot of gardeners just hang up their gardening tools for the winter and wait until the weather becomes warmer, but this should not be the case. Depending on your local weather, gardening during the winter may simply be less than the ideal, or you may be working with frozen soil which can remain rock solid for several months. Winter is also the best time to stock up on gardening supplies as most gardening centres usually offer great discounts to boost their winter sales. Regardless of the situation, winter offers any ambitious gardener an opportunity to explore many options that may not be available during the warmer seasons.
